A fair sized bunch of fans gathered on Windham field Wednesday afternoon and saw Windham High school administer a defeat to the Morgan school nine of Clinton at baseball in a rather loosely played and listless sort of a game by the score of 19-3. This was Windham's first league game. Unclaimed Letters.

Letters addressed as follows remain unclaimed at the Danlelson postoffice: George Bellwood John P, Curtis, Henry Merrill, N. White.

was Windham's first league game.

Play was pretty ragged in spots by both teams and both teams were so weak that they were fairly well matched. The local nine showed the most knowledge of inside ball and pulled off a number of plays that were very clever for so early in the season.

Keirans played a fine game at second base and Coiburn showed up strongly at short and Leonard's throwing was good. The visitors were a clean cut and quiet crowd of boys and played a nice clean game throughout, as did the local boys. John J. C. Stone of Norwich handled the indicator and gave fairly good satisfaction to both teams, although he was a triffe raw on a few decisions, which fortunately had no material bearing upon the game.

The complete tabulated score following gives a concise idea of the way the entire game was played:

Boulanger and Miss Netta Wolsard.

Social and Enstertainment. There was a social and entertainment in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening, the topsy-turvy chorus being one of the special features of the programme arranged. There was also a sale of cake and iccoream. The gymnasium classes are being continued through April on Monday and Friday evenings.

Auction at Cox Farm. Many buyers from the eastern section of Windham county were at the auction held on the H. F. Cox farm on allen Hill during Wednesday. The offerings included three horses, fifteen cows, wagons, carts, farm machinery, dairy equipment, etc. A quantity of household furniture was also offered for sale. Riley B. Witter of Brooklyn was auctioneer. George Patnode returned Wednesday morning from Portland, Me., accompa-nying the body of his brother, Albert N. The question of artificial propagation of lobsters is also being discussed. It has been the general opinion that more satisfactory results would be obtained in the development of the young fish
if the egg lobster was returned to the water as soon as caught, letting nature take its course. That this is the opinion in other places is proved by a despatch from St. Johns, Newfoundland, which says:

This island is the greatest breeding place for lobsters in the world. Of the $10,000,000 spent each year for lobsters
Newfoundland receives nearly $1,000,000. Her isolation forbids the profitabic export of live lobsters, and her whole product is tinned. Fresh lobsters at 5 cents aplece are common in Newfoundland during the summer.

Some 3,000,000 pounds of lobsters are exported every year. Allowing that each lobster yields four ounces of
"meat," this represents a kill of 12,000,000 annually but fully 50 per cent.
must be added for meatless, diheased
and immature ones, which the traps contain, and which are thrown outside the canneries to perish.

In the artificial propagation of lobsters it takes five years to raise one pound of the "meat," because not more than two or three lobsters come to maturity out of 10,000 eggs produced. The adult female lobster breeds every two years, and it takes six for the progeny to attain maturity.

An American biologist rolds that all

rity.

An American biologist holds that all the legislation of the world today for the protection of lobsters is wrong end foremost. He says that we are catching the wrong lobsters; that the adult or large, lobster is the one that should be protected and left for breeding. He argues that the decline of the supply

NOANK

Lobster Question the Main Topic of Discussion—Fog Delays Fishing Fleet.

The lobster question and the outcome of the special meeting of the Fishermen's Protective association is the principal topic for conversation in the village. Those who have read the application which has to be signed by the fishermen before the receipt of their permit from the state consider them in the right in giving this matter due consideration before placing their name to the application. Others contend that there is no reason why the laws of the state should not be complied with.

A force of men from the New England Navigation company's shop at Newport commenced stripping the freight steamer Pequot at the local wharf here Wednesday. The Pequot is the last of the old Neptune at the local wharf here Wednesday. The Pequot is the last of the old Neptune of the intention of the owners being to charter them to the government as transports. When the Pequot was launched she was named Thetis. Her dimensions were: Length 219 feet, beam 35 feet, depth 16 feet, gross tonnage 1,366. Both boats were purchased by the old Neptune steamship company and made records as freight carriers. Later the Thetis was purchased by the Stonington Steamship company and made records as freight carriers. Later the Thetis was purchased by the Stonington Steamship company and in Robert Palmer at Noank and rebuilt, was launched bearing the name of Pequot and put in service from this port, Newport Providen e, Fall River and New London, Her last voyage was port, Newport, Providen e, Fall River and New London, Her last voyage was to this port November 14, 1909, under command of Captain Brownell with Engineer John H.
